Trail Safety Reminders and Recommendations

Be sure to wear appropriate clothing and shoes for the route that you choose.

Bring plenty of water, sunscreen, sunglasses, a hat, and a first aid kit.

- Stay on the trail
- Ride at your own risk
- Do not leave valuables in your vehicle

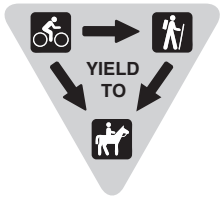
The La Tierra Trails System

The La Tierra Trails are designated as easy to moderate hiking trails and easy to moderate biking trails.

Multi-Use trails are generally wider trails with less abrupt grade changes, while Hiker-Biker trails are mostly narrower, single-track trails. Some trails within the system are identified as 'technical trails' with features or steeper grades.

Equestrians are allowed only on Multi-Use and Arroyo Trails.



Hikers and Bikers must yield to Equestrians on Multi-Use Trails.

Bikers must yield to Hikers on all trails.

Technical Park Areas

Bike Skills Parks are for advanced bike riders only. These parks are accessible from two major trailheads: the La Cuchara and Frijoles Trailheads.

ATV / MX Park, a.k.a. Buckman Track, is accessible from the southbound travel lanes of NM-599, west of Camino de los Montoyas.

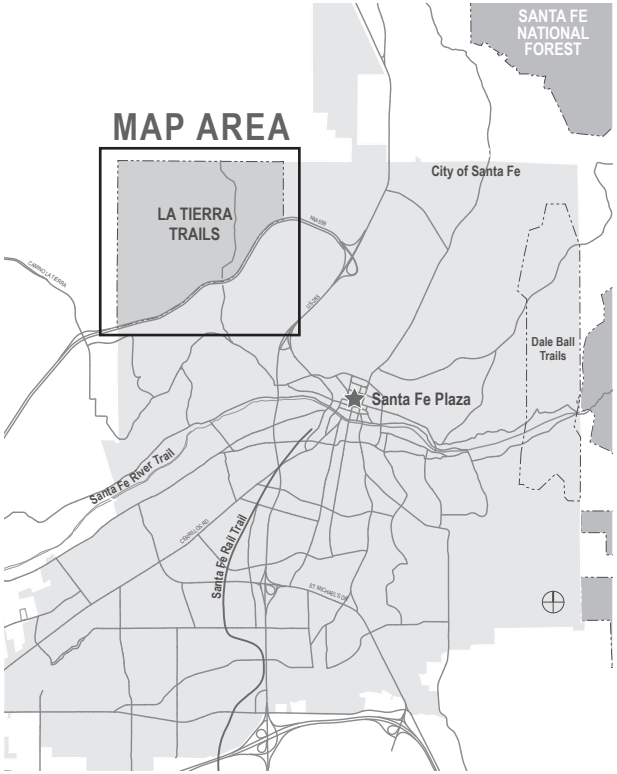
Persons entering these areas are responsible for riding at their own risk, knowing their skill-level, and wearing proper head and body protection.

Trail Rules and Etiquette

The La Tierra Trails system is located within city limits, on public land. All City Open Space rules apply within the trails and open space area.

Dogs must be kept on a leash at all times.

ATVs / MX vehicles are not allowed on trails except within the designated ATV/MX Park.



The La Tierra Trails system is less than three miles from the Santa Fe Plaza.
