Re: Response to Complaint by Tarin Nix

This response addresses the complaint filed by Tarin Nix on November 25, 2013 and served on December 3. Candidate Bushee requests that the complaint be dismissed as a matter of law because it fails to state a violation of city code.

9-3.6 Seed Money Contributions

The complaint alleges that Candidate Bushee made an improper "contribution" to her campaign's seed money account and an improper expenditure to Ms. Nix. This is a mischaracterization both of the intent and purpose of Candidate Bushee's personal advance of funds directly to Ms. Nix, at Ms. Nix' own insistence, before the decision to seek public financing and also of Bushee's efforts to comply with the code requirements thereafter.

A. The payment to Ms. Nix was not an improper seed money contribution or expenditure Candidate Bushee's original payment to Ms. Nix was not a seed money contribution, as defined by Section 9-3.3(M), nor was it meant to be. It was not paid out of the seed money account as was the later conforming payment. Candidate Bushee did not deposit personal funds in the seed money account and then pay Ms. Nix back out of those funds. Rather, the advance payment was a stopgap measure to address Ms. Nix' demand for payment upon her departure from the campaign. Nor was the payment an "expenditure" under the definition of Section 9-3.3(E)(1). The definition does not include payment made by candidate individually before certification.

B. The Code does not address this situation

The Code does not address the mechanics of paying costs which thereafter are legitimately subject to payment from a seed money account, but which are required to be paid prior[1] to receipt of adequate seed money funding.

Section 9-3.11(D), the substantive limitation on nonpublic expenditures, does address the restricted time period: "a candidate who has been certified as a participating candidate shall not thereafter accept any contribution to the candidate's campaign other than payments received from the fund... and shall not make any expenditure in support of the candidate's campaign from any source other than payments so received and previously

[1] It should be noted that it was Ms. Nix' own demand for payment that caused the situation; had she waited for payment there would be no issue. Moreover, it was her decision not to return the initial payment, but rather to get paid twice for the same work, that created the situation that she complains about.

deposited in the candidate's campaign depository." Thus, the code limits contributions and expenditures by candidates after certification, but not before.

In short, there is simply no seed money contribution, no expenditure, and hence no violation. The complaint poses a novel situation that the Code does not address and does not proscribe.

The Board may wish to recommend to the Governing Body appropriate Code amendments to clarify the proper course governing such an unclear situation Instead pursuant to Section 6-16.2(H), but because there is no Code violation the Board has no jurisdiction to take any action on the complaint other than dismissal.

9-3.8 Application for Certification

The complaint asserts Candidate Bushee "is in violation of the statement that the candidate has made no expenditures from any source other than seed money contributions." However Ms. Nix was fully paid from the seed money account prior to the affirmation.

The November 16 application states "I affirm that I have not made any expenditures for my current campaign from any source other than seed money contributions." Complaint Exhibit 4 is a November 15, 2013 check from the "Patti for Mayor" account to Nix for $1,750. Ms. Nix does not claim to have done more than $1,750 worth of work, despite her retention of double payment. Therefore, full payment was tendered, out of the seed money account, prior to the date of the affirmation.

Ms. Nix demanded payment before the seed money account was funded and before the decision to use public financing. Under those unique circumstances, Candidate Bushee had no option but to advance those funds personally, and did so in an attempt to be fair to Ms. Nix. After subsequent proper payment from the seed account Ms. Nix was requested to return the original advance in the same spirit of fairness. She declined to do so, but regardless of the windfall to her, the fact is that she was fully paid out of the campaign seed money account.

The complaint fails on its face to state a violation of the code. Even if there were any technical violation within the Board's jurisdiction to address, it is not ongoing and even at that only the result of Candidate Bushee's good faith effort to comply with the intent of the public finance system under circumstances that the Code does not address. Moreover, the remedial action was taken after consultation with the independent Common Cause of New Mexico as to how to best proceed. Considering (i) the absence of any regulations prohibiting such a cure and (ii) the absence of any evidence that Candidate Bushee attempted to circumvent the regulations, dismissal as a matter of law is consistent with the public policy goal of the Code to encourage Public financing method in mayoral campaigns

Candidate Bushee waives an evidentiary hearing in accordance with SFCC 6-16.7(E) and asserts that because there are no material facts in dispute the Board should consider the issue as a matter of course.

VERIFICATION

I hereby swear that the foregoing response is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

My Commission Expires 3/3/2017

The nature of the alleged violations are enumerated in paragraph 3 below. I am referencing the Election and Political Campaign Codes, specifically 9-3 Public Campaign Finance Code.

My complaints (as supported by my reference to the Code in paragraph 3 of the Complaint Form) are that there have been false and inaccurate statements made by Patti Bushee and the Bushee Mayoral Campaign regarding her request for public campaign finance funding. Ms. Bushee began her campaign as a privately-funded campaign, and after that effort was unsuccessful, attempted to seek public campaign funding. I believe this has violated the Public Campaign Finance Code by obtaining seed money contributions in excess of the amount allowed ($100). By her own admission, Ms. Bushee contributed $1,750 of her own money, which violates the $100 contribution limit. She has also maintained that she has reported $6,000 of seed money contributions, but Ms. Bushee did not disclose the payment to me in June, which would put her over the $6,000 limit.

Seed money contributions, as I understand it, "shall be used only for the purpose of seeking to become a participating candidate and accept seed money contributions to defray expenses incurred in obtaining qualified contributions in seeking certification as a participating candidate." The $1,750 which Ms. Bushee paid to me, were as a campaign manager and was not spent pursuant to 9-3.6 A.

Ms. Bushee also failed to report her contribution to her campaign and payment to me of $1,750 in her affidavit seeking public finance funds. She also is in violation of the statement that the candidate has made no expenditures from any source other than seed money contributions. Again, as noted at Section 9-3.8, Sub-Section B, 2 and 3. I rely on the citations in paragraph 3, but I wanted to state in my words, my understanding of the violations of the Public Finance Code.

By way of supporting background, I will say that on May 14, I was solicited by Patti Bushee, via telephone, while living in Austin, TX. She asked me to make a trip out to Santa Fe to interview for the position of Campaign Manager. During which time, she stated that she was interested in running a private, well-funded campaign. On Memorial Day weekend, I ventured out to Santa Fe to meet with Patti Bushee, Walt Borton and Joe Lennihan at Babaluus Cuban Restaurant on May 25. We had a two hour long conversation, in which we discussed campaign strategy, my monthly income of $3,500 and the need to raise anywhere from $120,000 to $160,000 to be successful. At the end of the dinner, Patti Bushee agreed to hire me as Campaign Manager, which is also noted in email correspondence on the same date, attached hereto as Exhibit No.2.

I drove back to Texas the next day and began packing up my belongings, quit my full time job and by June 1, had relocated myself back to Santa Fe, to officially start as campaign manager on the Bushee Mayoral Campaign. During my time on the campaign, I attend numerous team and individual meetings on behalf of the campaign. I also assisted with website development, talking points/campaign messaging and created a summer campaign plan, attached hereto as Exhibit No. 2.

After nearly a month of service, I was informed by Ms. Bushee and her campaign associates, Walt Borton and Joe Lennihan, that because the private fundraising was not going as well as they had hoped, they wanted to revisit the idea of running a publicly funded campaign. They asked me at that point if I would take a reduction in pay. After a brief discussion, I indicated I would not. I was thereafter informed that my services would no longer be needed. As per our agreement to pay me bi-monthly, Ms. Bushee agreed to pay me a half-month's salary. On June 19, I was given a check for part of my monthly salary as Campaign Manager, in the amount of $1,750.

On Friday, November 15, I received a call from Joe Lennihan, on behalf of the Bushee Campaign, asking me if I would swap checks, so my payment was noted as coming from the Bushee's Seed Money Account and not from the account the check I was given on June 19 (see, attached Cashier's Check in the amount of $1,750). I informed Joe Lennihan that I would not swap out the check and give back the money. I also advised Joe Lennihan that I wanted to make sure the June 19 cashier's check was reported in Ms. Bushee's filing, because that was when I actually received the initial payment. Mr. Lennihan acknowledged that he did not know what checks would be reported, but the decision was up to me to decide what to do with the additional check. On November 19, prior to receiving the second check that evening, I emailed Santa Fe City clerk, Yolanda Vigil, to seek advice on whether to accept the second check. In her email, Ms. Vigil informed me that she would not be able to advise me and I needed to submit a complaint form to the Ethics and Campaign Review Board.

Back in January I sent you the email copied below.

I find it disturbing that only a few months later, I need to remind you again that the ban on magazines you are considering is in violation of state constitutional law.

Article 2, Section 6 of our state's constitution reads as follows:

"Sec. 6. [Right to bear arms.]
No law shall abridge the right of the citizen to keep and bear arms for security and defense, for lawful hunting and recreational use and for other lawful purposes, but nothing herein shall be held to permit the carrying of concealed weapons. No municipality or county shall regulate, in any way, an incident of the right to keep and bear arms."

Note the language- "in any way." This is very clear. You cannot ban high capacity magazines- this is a clear attempt to regulate the ability of law-abiding citizens to bear high-capacity firearms- this is unconstitutional.

Please concern yourselves with upholding the law, not trying to circumvent it. It is your duty and obligation to do so. Once again, I will point out to you that criminals will not care what the law says. All you are considering is taking away the liberties of your law-abiding citizens. I will not stand for that.

Thank you,

Councilor Bushee and other members,

Banning high-capacity magazines is not the answer to the issue. Criminals do not care about laws and will carry out their actions despite any regulation on high-capacity magazines. I am a legal gun owner, and I abide by the law. Why should I not be allowed to own certain pieces of equipment because of what a criminal has done, or may do? There are too many of these magazines out there in private owners' hands, and in the marketplace, for your proposals to have the affect you desire. A criminal will be able to gain possession of these items regardless of your actions.

How am I to prove I owned my equipment prior to any law passing? Do I need to now carry papers to this effect, that I will have to show upon demand? What about businesses engaged in free enterprise- will they no longer be able to sell products sought by the free market? This is not New York, this is not New Jersey. This is New Mexico, a free state, and some of us have chosen to live here because of that fact.

Please reconsider the ramifications of your actions and consider why the state constitution specifically contains Article 2 Section 6. Your proposals will not address the issue of criminal activity and will only serve to restrict the rights of law-abiding citizens.

J. Kaufman

Awesome! Thanks Joe!

I am waiting on one lose end to wrap up here in Austin before making the journey back out. I will most likely get in Sunday or Monday night.

What does everyone's schedule look like?

Walt - It would be great if we could get together early in the week to talk about some day to day operation things that need to get ironed out so we can begin developing the campaign plan. Let me know what your schedule looks like!

I am available anytime by phone (817)-995-5628 or email, so please don't hesitate to reach out if I can do anything over the next couple of days before I get out there full time.

Best,

Tarin

Tarin,

Sorry to disappear into radio silence but getting this summer market launched has been a challenge on more fronts than I would car to admit. I schedule very little if anything beyond banking on Mondays because I'm pretty drifty and have a full day tomorrow – what does your Wednesday look like?

Hi Alex,

My name is Tarin Nix and I was recently brought on as the consultant for Patti's race for Mayor.

We are trying to get our logo figured out and were hoping you could give us your opinion.

I have attached the old logo from last years council campaign.

While we all thought it would be a good idea to keep the same layout/color scheme because people already know that is Patti - we are totally open to suggestions.

Ideally - Patti would like to have 2014 displayed noticeably on the new logo & the office would need to change to - Patti for Mayor or Patti for Mayor in 2014 or a play on the number 4 instead of the word 'for' and 2014 incorporated in some capacity.

Patti mentioned you are super busy, so if you do not have time to create the new logo yourself, that is ok. We just really want your feedback before we move forward. Patti really loves your work and we hope to utilize your talents soon!

Let us know what you think/what you have time for. I will have the editable versions of the logo over to you as soon as they are in my possession. Thanks for taking a look and supporting Patti!

Best,

Hi Tarin!

I've always thought this was a strong logo for Patti. And I'd love to help update it to reflect 2014 and "for Mayor". There may be some other ways we can update the overall look while maintaining the overall brand. Go ahead and send the working files and let me give it whirl.

As per our discussion today, I wanted to get the ball rolling on the website and Patti's talking points for the public funding questions.

I tried to summarize the points made by everyone in my responses. Feel free to edit/disregard anything and add additional question/responses you feel Patti needs to prep for - these are just to the get the conversation started! I realize Patti might want it more in paragraph form, rather than question/answer.

Website

After giving it some thought - I do not think we need to have a district map on the website - why would we want to tell the potential 13k new people they can vote?

Public Funding Talking Points

Q: In 2012, your campaign centered around the importance of accepting public campaign funding to keep big money out of city government. What has changed?

A: I have worked hard for 18 years to cut down on wasteful spending and keep special interest money out of the Santa Fe City Council and I will continue to do just that as Mayor. I still believe the current public campaign finance laws are ample for our City Council elections and I believe every voter deserves an opportunity to hear what I believe on the issues. However, the limitations imposed at the Mayoral level will make it impossible to effectively reach out to the 47,000 registered voters in the City.

Q: Is the recent decision to privately fund your Mayoral campaign an indication that you no longer support Santa Fe's public campaign financing for municipal races?

A: Since the 2012 election, I have expressed concern to City Attorney, Geno Zamora, about the current shortcomings in our public campaign finance laws and the need to address them prior to the 2014 municipal elections. Those issues have not been resolved and I believe the time to start reaching out to voters about my campaign is now. I wholeheartedly support Santa Fe having clean and fair elections and will work as Mayor to find a viable solution to ensure Santa Feans get the representation they deserve.

Q: Why have you chosen to not accept the public campaign funding?

A: Current public campaign finance laws prohibit a candidate from spending money until December. I am serious about being Santa Fe's next Mayor and believe Santa Feans deserve to hear where I stand on the issues and what they can expect from me as Mayor. With over 47,000 registered voters within city limits and the potential for an additional 13,000 more voters to be phased in prior to 2014, I believe I owe it to every voter to start now.

Q: Do you think that $60,000 isn't sufficient to run for Mayor?

A: I feel the restrictions on in-kind donations and the uncertainty in some of the language used in our current laws, make it difficult to effectively communicate where I stand on the issues to 47,000 registered Santa Feans on a $60,000 budget. Santa Feans deserve the opportunity to hear from each individual candidate and with a $60,000 budget and a restriction of not being able to use it until December, I believe it will be difficult for anyone who accepts public campaign funding on a Mayoral race.

Q: Will you accept big dollar donations/special interest money?

A: This campaign will be no different than any other campaign I have run over the last 18 years. I have always opposed special interest money in city politics and will continue to do so while funded privately or publicly. I have personally imposed a $1,000 cap on all donations to my campaign, the same as the cap in our City Council elections, to ensure an emphasis is still placed on in-district small dollar donations.

So - the property 2 blocks from the Capitol is back on the market. I am going to have to pay a pretty penny to get it and accept my dog - but it looks to be mine as of July 1.

They need a proof of income and are happy to take a signed letter from Patti just stating my monthly salary of $3,500. Ideally - it would be great to have a copy of a salary check as well on the 15th for them to put on their file.

Joe - any objections?

I am happy to type something up. The leasing agent just said it needs to state what company (campaign) I am working for, what work I am doing, the monthly salary, and Patti's contact info.

Thoughts?

Hi Tarin:

I would like us to sit down and go over how we think this is going to work before we start making pieces of paper. Unfortunately I am out of pocket until Friday (and I think Patti may be elsewhere the next couple of days as well). Why don't you come by my office Friday at lunchtime and let's go find a place to eat and talk. Thank you for getting us back on line. You might spend a little time in the voter Db getting familiar who and what is where. Thanks.

I will see what I can do to hold them off for a few days.

I think a contract between the campaign and me would suffice for them, since I am my own boss technically.

I just want to make sure everything is still on track with me coming on board. I was a little taken back by the talk of public finance because everyone seemed to be on the same page with my salary, as well as patti wanting me to start june 1st and focus daily on her race. I did leave a job and move to santa fe, so I just want to make sure we are still good.

If you want, I am happy to send over a contract I would send to my other clients. It isn't anything fancy. Just states the parties, job assignments, and gives the parties the right to terminate an agreement.

Let me know!

Best,

Tarin

It has the consulting agreement and a NDA. Figured I would include one given the seriousness of Santa Fe gossip. Might be something y'all want everyone on the campaign to sign.

Subject: Should the Democratic Party allow independents to vote in our primaries? Discussion and Feedback

Dear Patti

New Mexico permits only registered members of a party to vote. Some argue everyone or at least independents should be allowed to vote in the Primary. Others contend that only persons registered to a Party should pick the candidates for that Party. This has been a topic of articles and editorials over the past years.

On Wed June 19th we will have a discussion of these issues lead by Fred Nathan, Javier Gonzales and Rep. Brian Egolf to explore the political and legal issues involved in the question of opening primaries to non-party members. Following the discussion we will seek your feedback about the issue.

Good Morning Joe!

I was talking to Patti this morning and she would really love hard copies of contribution lists to go over.

I have attached all of Coss' mayoral contributions, as well as Kepler's.

Happy to pull any others y'all might think are relevant. I am working on pulling Santa Fe residents who have given to Victory Fund & HRC.

Could you print these lists off for me? I do not mind picking them up and getting them to Patti.

Thanks!

Patti for Mayor Campaign
Summer Campaign Plan & Calendar

CONFIDENTIAL

The voters of the city of Santa Fe will elect a new Mayor on March 4, 2014 to fill the seat vacated by Mayor David Coss. This plan outlines how Councilwoman Patti Bushee's can maximize the summer to ensure her record of results and lifetime of community service remain at the forefront of the Santa Fe municipal elections. The activities described here are designed to create a sense of contagious momentum behind her campaign and maximize her ability to win in 2014.

LANDSCAPE

With four potential Mayoral candidates announced, Councilwoman Patti Bushee is considered the frontrunner for Mayor of Santa Fe. However, with a few months remaining for additional candidates to enter the race, more focus needs to be placed on developing a dynamic and active campaign this summer. Councilwoman Patti Bushee's role in the community provides a critical element to her campaign and the support to develop a district-wide grassroots field campaign.

STRATEGY

A strong foundation is key to any winning campaign and that starts with research, a committed group of core supporters, and a thoroughly thought out campaign plan. These, coupled a dedication to fundraising, will create an environment that allows for a full grassroots volunteer program by September.

Research – Opposition research books will be compiled on all Santa Fe Mayoral candidates to aid with messaging and development of talking points. Books will include but are not limited too: record while in public office, voter history, personal finances & tax payment records, professional experiences, media, and legal cases.

Administrative – There are specific day-to-day functions that need to be addressed prior to the campaign kickoff. Duties include but are not limited too: getting the voterfile updated, securing an office rental, setting up the office, purchasing office equipment, overseeing the website development and site text, compiling previous campaign data, developing a online campaign presence on Facebook and building a network of online supporters, development and purchasing of business cards and campaign literature, establish additional earned media and promotion, and developing an aggressive campaign and field plan.

Fundraising – Councilwoman Patti Bushee's commitment to the residents of Santa Fe will undoubtedly create an expansive list of supporters and donors throughout the next ten months. While a majority of the money needed to run a successful campaign can wait until after summer, there is a growing need to raise $25,000 this summer to ensure the campaign can create the foundation needed. A strong and effective fundraising program will need a central recording system to track fundraising calls and incoming donations, as well as the ability to accept online donations. The campaign will work to build new fundraising opportunities over the summer and set up private fundraisers for the fall.

FUTURE CAMPAIGN NEEDS

There are a couple of administrative tasks that need to be addressed prior to everyone's summer vacations.

1.) An individual other than Patti needs to be added to the bank account and given the authority to issue checks. Some checks will need to be written while Patti is on vacation through mid-July. Ideally, it would great to have a debit card that can be used to purchase website services needed to develop the campaign.

2.) Mailbox keys or access to the individual picking up Walt's & Patti's mail will be critical in knowing who to follow up with regarding contributions.

3.) Access to Patti's Facebook and calendar needs to be established prior to the end of the month.

4.) A list of all individuals solicited for contributions and individuals willing to host a fundraiser, so BJ or Tarin can follow-up/send 'thank you' notes. Also, any other potential campaign volunteers/advisors who may want to be a part of the initial process.

5.) A decision will need to be made regarding what database we will use online and for tracking donations. Since donations are starting to come in, we want to make sure we track everything by the book.
