Councilor Trujillo recognized Councilor Lindell.

Councilor Trujillo began the public hearing at 5:05 p. m.

Councilor Lindell explained the proposed ordinance. She brought this forward mimicking the Airport District Ordinance that was approved in 2012. It has functioned well and served its purpose in limiting the sizeable amount of litter these miniatures cause. Having given that ordinance on Airport Road a success, the change to be implemented is a proper thing to do for the entire city.

Councilor Trujillo asked folks wishing to speak to line up and state their name and address.

Marilyn Morehead said she was also bringing messages from the neighborhood watch group in that area. They were trying to keep the streets clean because the liquor store was within steps of the residential area where she lived. There was constant dropping of plastic bottles. It is a matter of picking them up and cleaning. They were trying to keep an image that people actually live there and it is not just a walkway from the liquor store to Agua Fria. With the support of many of her neighbors and the watch group, she asked that this be considered in a positive note. It would be helpful to the community and send a message. Ms. Morehead submitted a petition signed by the neighbors who lived in that area and is attached to these minutes as an Exhibit.

Tom Starke said he supports this measure. He is Chair of the Santa Fe County DWI Council. He supports the ordinance as a litter control measure and also because a large number of these small containers are purchased by people who are driving and they consume them right away in the car and since it is illegal to drink and drive, they throw them out of the window. We support this measure and hope the Council appreciates that this litter travels far.

Andy Otto, Executive Director of the Santa Fé Watershed Association. They have adopted a river program. The Association is in favor of this ordinance to help remove litter from the river beds.

Richard Anaya, Liquor license holder in Santa Fe, in business for 40 years has lived in Santa Fe his whole life. He feels that an impact study should be done so he was going to wait to give his opinions. He asked that they show the impact and then send it to Finance. He asked that Public Works "kill this or send it forward without recommendation."

Young Jo said, "My parents moved to Santa Fe in 1994. We started a liquor business here and then two more and seven in Albuquerque. I understand the litter problem. You have to think about fixing the litter problem another way. It is not just the mini bottles. Banning the sale is not a good idea. Maybe charge a deposit. Think about a different way to solve the problem rather than hurt the small business and people who have been here a long time. Also people then have to buy bigger size bottles. The panhandlers do their thing. A lot of people use the small size for cooking. I don't drink. I am here to wish you will allow the small size sales and fix the problem in another way."

Councilor Karen Heldmeyer said she lives very close to a liquor establishment. In terms of anti litter this makes sense. However, the Committee needs to take into account that Santa Fe is a tourist city. Many of the hotels have mini bars with miniatures in them. Her understanding is that this law does not speak to that and the Committee might want to give that some thought.

Jim Lewis said he represented two businesses on St. Francis that have a problem with people drinking in the parking lot and behind the incinerators. They have a problem with their employees not feeling safe. There are two places that sell miniatures very close to their business. This does not reflect well on Santa Fe as a tourist spot.

Shelley Mann-Lev, Director of the Santa Fe Prevention Alliance, said they have identified through conversations with youth and other members that these little bottles are seen all over Santa Fe. They are an eyesore. This is a significant source of litter. The more people see alcohol advertisements, the more people think they can drink anywhere and just toss the bottle. This should help create a good comfortable environment. Businesses can find a way to shift their business.

Liz Saenz student and member of SWAT said, as a young person she definitely sees a lot of these bottles and not in a positive way. She sees them when she goes for a run in the morning from her house to the park and could count at least 40 of those little bottles. It is bad for the environment and negative on the youth who have easy access. Alcohol ranked number 4 in early use by teenagers. This needs to stop. The ordinance will be more positive for the youth.

Kathleen Ortiz, co-owner of Rodeo Plaza Liquors and native of Santa Fe, said over the last five years they have seen changes to small businesses in Santa Fe. Because of competition with big box businesses, there are only two left. They have to comply with minimum wage and the plastic bag ban and now this.

She said this ordinance will not allow for growth for city and will significantly lower the GRT. It will decrease 23% of their sales and bring over $14,000 less in revenue to the City from their small establishment. "We cannot compete with Walmart and other big businesses."

She said litter appears to be the reason for this ordinance but she saw a story on channel 13 that said it was to stop alcoholism. She said she saw litter but not any more empty containers of alcohol than she did for cups, dog poop, and fast food wrappers. She respectfully asked the Committee to deny this ordinance. She also invited them to visit their store and see how important the local businesses are to the City Different.

Brad Furry, Furry's Buick, next door to the shelter, said at least three Councilors had walked the lot with him. He encouraged the Committee to consider banning them (miniatures). It is an enormous litter situation that they face on a daily basis. It is also a public intoxication issue. Removing them as an option would benefit the community.

There were no other speakers and Chair Trujillo closed the public hearing.

Councilor Dominguez moved to approve the proposed ordinance. Councilor Rivera seconded the motion.

Councilor Dominguez thanked everyone for coming to the meeting. He listened to what people said and did some research. He looked at what was done in 2012. This is an issue that can be long on political appeal but short on economics, community health and litter, all of which were talked about tonight.

In regard to litter, he thanked Councilor Lindell for bringing this forward. It is obvious that a lot of litter comes from these miniatures. In his experience on Airport Road that litter has decreased since the City passed the ordinance out there. It also reduced the amount of panhandlers and that is a positive thing for the community. Just the litter decrease alone makes this a worthwhile effort.

Regarding economics. There is not a lot of information out there on how this affects a business community. It is always said that the small business will go out of business. But the follow up finds that they have to adapt and change their business operation. There is a ton of documentation and a number of studies that indicate the detriment to community health. What they might lose economically does not equal the detriment to community health and loss of production.

There are a lot of people who look at this every day and understand the dynamics of community health impact. They used to sell cigarettes one at a time. Now that is not allowed and for good reason. Our community wants and deserves to be safe and clean. People want to not be harassed when they go to an establishment.

Councilor Dominguez said he stood in full support of this ordinance and the movement to force the hand of the state legislature to change the laws that have a negative impact on this community and other communities. The people he represents pay a lot of taxes in this community. They want a clean safe community and environment. He encouraged the industry to study what it takes to make a good healthy community.

Councilor Rivera said although he was not sure about some things, he is 100% sure about this. It is worth the entire Governing Body taking a look at this. He asked if the sponsor would also look at the issue of bars at the hotels.

Councilor Lindell agreed to look into that.

Councilor Rivera noted that they banned the sale of miniatures on Airport Road for some time now. They thought revenues would go down due to the ban. However, they are actually making more because people buy larger bottles. He was not sure that is a good thing. As far as litter goes, it is an issue. He supports this because he feels it is worth having a larger discussion with the Governing Body.

Councilor Rivera said his concern with this is that he could walk down every street in this community and find cigarette butts, dog poop and other things. He wondered if this is government impeding too much. He asked if the City is going to pass a resolution banning dogs, bubble gum and cigarettes. There is a time when government can get too involved. It is now prohibition. We decided not to ban e cigarettes but to regulate them. There are rules on who the liquor industry can sell to.

Councilor Rivera noted that within this ordinance liquor stores can still sell a pack of 4. He asked how this ban will affect hotels. He said from his perspective he would not support this. He thought there are a lot more pressing issues that this Council needs to look at: homeless shelter, streets, infrastructure and others. He felt this is going too far. He was not ready to support this but does respect looking into it.

Councilor Lindell thanked everyone who came out today. There are three facets to this: litter control, community health and economics. She went back to the ordinance already passed that is working on Airport Road. That ordinance has been a success. Expanding it to the rest of the city only makes sense and is the next logical step. The litter aspect is sizeable. Community health is a huge part of this. You can assume most bottles are thrown out of cars. Banning the sale of the individual bottles will benefit the community.

Councilor Dominguez the whole pack of 4 thing is because the state legislature mandates that. Otherwise, he thought they should get rid of all of them. There is no data out there that says if you have to buy a bigger bottle that you will drink more. What it comes down to is that the issue is long on political appeal and short on substance. He encouraged everyone to take the time to look at the studies.

The motion passed by 2-0 roll call vote with Councilor Dominguez and Councilor Rivera voting in favor and none against.

15. MATTERS FROM STAFF

There were no matters from Staff.

16. MATTERS FROM THE COMMITTEE

Councilor Dominguez asked for the status of the Parks Bond audit. On the agenda tonight the Committee had an issue on reallocation of bond money. There has been some correspondence. He wondered if staff is doing something or waiting for the audit to be complete before getting to POSAC.

Mr. Pino said staff's role in the audit is to provide information as the auditors ask for it. Staff has been doing that for a month now. It has been made very clear to us by the auditors that we are not to touch any documents. The audit is to be completed in late March. Right now staff is just on standby making ourselves available when the auditors need us.

Councilor Dominguez said it does affect the bonds.

Mr. Pino said he was talking about the 2008 Parks Bond. Projects from the recent bond will be completed this summer then he will put together what is left to go to POSAC for recommendations. That would happen in October.

Councilor Dominguez asked if reallocation on the 2012 bond will be subject to this piece.

Mr. Pino agreed - anything that is financed by a bond sale.
