

Dear Mayor David Coss,

We are pleased to present you with this petition affirming one simple statement:

"I support the City of Santa Fe's memorial to recognize same-sex marriages as legal in New Mexico.

Sign me up as a citizen co-sponsor of this important civil rights legislation."

Attached is a list of individuals who have added their names to this petition, as well as additional comments written by the petition signers themselves.

Sincerely,
Pat Davis

Sign me up as a citizen co-sponsor for legalizing same-sex marriage

By Pat Davis (Contact)

To be delivered to: Mayor David Coss

Petition Statement:

I support the City of Santa Fe's memorial to recognize same-sex marriages as legal in New Mexico.

Sign me up as a citizen co-sponsor of this important civil rights legislation.

Petition Background

The City of Santa Fe is introducing a resolution, complete with a legal opinion, declaring that same-sex marriage in New Mexico is officially legal.

The legal opinion, drafted by City Attorney Geno Zamora, notes:

- 1) New Mexico's laws do not define marriage as between a man and a woman—the definitions are gender-neutral;
- 2) A statutory list of prohibited marriages does not list same-sex couples;
- 3) Same-sex marriages from other states are already recognized by New Mexico law;
- 4) To discriminate against same-sex couples would violate the New Mexico Constitution which requires equality under the law regardless of sex.

It encourages county clerks to immediately issue legal same-sex marriage licenses.

The resolution is sponsored by Mayor Coss and Councilor Bushee.

Say thank you to Mayor Coss and the city council and tell them you agree! We'll deliver your name to the city council when they introduce the resolution.

Married in Sandoval County in 2004. It's time to make it legal - for everyone. It's a matter of equality.
Marriage equality. Not "same-sex" marriage. The sex does not matter - it's marriage. Equal access. Period.

This is an equal rights issue--equal marriage rights--and is logically included in previous US Constitutional amendments. Religious institutions can limit according to their beliefs--but government made a commitment to equal rights many years ago.

As a child of gay parents who grew up in Santa Fe, I believe it is very important for children to have parents who can marry. I was never like my friends growing up because my parents were not married. Allowing gays and lesbians to marry is important for not only country, but also many, many people who lives will be changed for the better where their rights are granted.

Thank you! My partner and I are a heterosexual couple who are waiting to get legally married until the privileges of marriage are afforded to all people equally here in NM. We have been standing in solidarity with our loved ones who have been denied the rights of marriage but would love to see that changed. Especially because we had a child this year. We really appreciate this effort and look forward to the expansion of civil rights to the LGBTQ community in New Mexico. Thank you!!!!

Gay people being married does NOT threaten my marriage. I'm not going to go out and get divorced just because gay people are getting married to each other. Makes me wonder: "Are Republicans going to, all-of-a-sudden, start getting divorced just because gay people are getting married? Are Republican marriages that weak? What else could the Republicans possibly mean by "defending marriage" than that gay marriage would threaten their own marriage?"

My thanks to the mayor and the city attorney of Santa Fe for affirming that as a citizen I have the right to equality before the law which is another way of saying that as a human being I am as entitled as anybody else to a human right. I really appreciate it. There are not many profiles in courage in politics these days, so the mayor and the city attorney really stand out. Nevertheless, as cheerful as their resolution makes me feel, I'm not at all deluded into thinking that they or any other entity on the face of the earth can GIVE me a human right. Whether they are local officials or Congresspersons or Supreme Court Judges, all they can do is to AFFIRM or DENY my human rights. So thank you, gentlemen, for the affirmation.

I think this an important issue for New Mexicans to at least begin to look at realistically. As with most states that have demographic differences. NM is no different. You will find in several SE counties the Christian vote will prevail with a loud NO. Other than that most counties are democratic and I would hope they would be open to listen. Even though you have a large section of Hispanic catholic voters you also have a group that understands equality. I understand why pollsters have considered NM different in the past. But this state needs input! We are faced with some serious economic issues and I believe quite a corrupt government on state, county and city/town level. If the people are being challenged to grow and think for them selves...this could change. Never hold back on important issues no matter the response! Sincerely, Lauri S. Stokes

I have had a same-sex partner now for 36 years. We were finally at least granted a civil union in Illinois two years ago, but now that we have moved to NM, we are back where we started from. In effect, by moving from one state to another, our civil rights have been taken away.

I would love to marry my partner of 12 years. We've lived together 10. We have been committed to one another in the way of a home, a daughter graduating from NMSU. The commitment is present without a marriage license- however- it would bring forth much needed benefits- taxes, social security, etc. Fortunately, my school district recognizes us as a family and I am able to provide medical insurance for them. Thank you .

Thank you Mayor Coss. My partner and I, along with our two young sons, are currently planning our wedding/ family union in Provincetown, MA. We will wed this summer on June 24. While my family is excited to have a "destination wedding", we would have preferred celebrating our union, among family and friends, in our homestate of New Mexico. I greatly appreciate the time and energy you have put forth to recognize same-sex marriage in New Mexico. In the words of my eldest son (who is 10), you are a great mayor!

Legalizing same-sex marriage is long overdue. I think that only those who would wish to limit or deny the equal civil and legal rights that are given to heterosexual couples who marry would be opposed to this resolution. There SHOULD be equal rights and protection under the law, and this has nothing to do with your religious affiliation.

Tony Horvat
Albuquerque, NM 87110
Mar 19, 2013

Personally I don't think governments should play a role in deciding who adults can marry or not. These should be decided according to the spiritual and social beliefs of those who are getting married. If you are a member of a fundamentalist congregation and they tell you who you can or cannot marry you can follow there beliefs or leave. If you are a member of a congregation that accepts same sex marriages or not a member of any religious group you should have the right to marry whomever you wish and tell the government or conservative religious groups to buzz off.

As a gay man myself who finds NM to be a very progressive state in terms of its views on race, gender and sexuality, this is an extremely logical step. It's time to legalize gay marriage in NM; nothing would make me happier to know that the state that encouraged me to be who I am is practicing what it preaches.

Many same-sex couples have the very same interest in having access to an institution that has this social meaning as opposite-sex couples have, affording them the intangible benefit of being able to signal to their community that they wish their relationship to be interpreted in the light of these generally shared assumptions found in marriage. Given that, it must be unjust for the state to deny same-sex couples the right to marry when this right is made available to other couples who have precisely the same interest in having it. Follow the logic and recognize that same sex marriage in New Mexico as legal.

My partner and I have been in a committed relationship for 33 years. We feel it is our Constitutional right to the same privileges as any other American. We implore you to make this official in our home state of New Mexico. Why should we have to go to another state to marry when it's already not illegal to be married here?

Come on, for heavens sake, get with the program. Canada has recognized same sex marriage since 2005. Have you seen them making such a fuss? Many Catholic countries have already passed the same sex marriage law. Do we want the USA to seem like they are dragging their feet and behind the times. Remember they did not get rid of slavery quickly enough either.

As someone who has lived with my partner for almost 27 years, I would like to see New Mexico legalize same-sex marriage in my lifetime. I do not want my state to always be the very last one to support fairness!

No One, on this planet, should ever have the right to demand by Law, sanctify through Constitutional Decree, or Religious Interference, anyone's right to Love and/or Marry an individual's choice, for a significant other! Several, of our Country's Progressive States have finally realized, that in this 21st Century, affording Same Sex Couples their right to receive uncompromised Unequivocal Equality through Marriage and/or Domestic Partnership, is logical, unambiguous and a Constitutional Right, for the Freedom of Choice!
