Here are some key facts regarding Wells Fargo in Santa Fe and New Mexico:

- 168.5 Million invested in Local Santa Fe Community in Consumer and Small Business Loans (2015) (see below for breakdown).
  $64.7 million extended for 725 home equity loans to families and individuals
  $38.9 million extended for 110 home purchase loans, including $1.67 million for low- and moderate-income families and individuals
  $32.8 million extended for home refinance lending, including $2.59 million for low and moderate income borrowers
  $15.9 million for 675 auto loans
  $14.9 million in credit extended to help 416 local small businesses
  $1.15 million in community development loans, including community services
  $225,880 in student lending

- $200,000 was donated by Wells Fargo to Santa Fe nonprofits and charities in 2016.

- An additional $127,650 was donated to the Santa Fe nonprofits and charities in 2015, including:
    - $49,250 for post-secondary and PreK-12 education needs
    - $37,500 for community development, including housing projects
    - $17,000 for arts and cultural causes, including museums, libraries, and performing arts

- 1,586 volunteer hours were donated by Santa Fe team members last year, who volunteered at 226 different events and assisted 152 local organizations.
    - Examples: Habitat for Humanity and Credit Basics classes at local high schools

- Wells Fargo supports WESST Santa Fe, an organization that helps New Mexicans create and grow small businesses through training, lending and incubation.

- 49% of the branches in New Mexico are located in or directly border and serve LMI (Low-Middle Income) communities.
    - 7 Community Banking Branches in Santa Fe
    - Employee 90+ Team Members in Santa Fe

- Wells Fargo was ranked first in the number of mortgage loans to LMI (Low-Middle-Income) communities in New Mexico.

- Wells Fargo was ranked first in the dollar volume of loans to small businesses in LMI (Low-Middle Income) communities in New Mexico.